

Security Patch Management

The Patch Management Team downloads the available patches and installs them in a test environment and performs research on technical groups and forums

Whitelisted patches are deployed to the client site based on the scheduled time for desktops and servers.

Testing

Research

